Allstate Leverages National General Platform to Grow Personal Property-Liability Acquires SafeAuto in an all-cash transaction

NORTHBROOK, Ill., June 1, 2021 – The Allstate Corporation (NYSE: ALL) has agreed to acquire SafeAuto, a non-standard auto insurance carrier focused on providing state-minimum private-passenger auto insurance with coverage options in 28 states. Total consideration includes a $270 million cash purchase price plus approximately $30 million in pre-close dividends of certain non-insurance assets.

SafeAuto, a privately held company headquartered in Columbus, Ohio, will add capabilities and distribution to National General's direct-to-consumer non-standard auto insurance operations and leverage National General's track record of acquiring and integrating companies to accelerate growth. SafeAuto broadens the company's product and distribution footprint.

"National General's integration of Allstate's independent agent businesses has made excellent progress, and the team has the capacity to integrate SafeAuto into its direct insurance business," said Glenn Shapiro, President, Personal Property-Liability. "SafeAuto will accelerate our strategy of offering affordable protection solutions by lowering costs and lead to higher growth," said Peter Rendall, President, National General, Property and Casualty.

"The acquisition and integration capabilities of National General, combined with the backing and capital of Allstate, will enable us to serve more customers," said Ron Davies, Chief Executive Officer, SafeAuto.

The transaction is expected to close near the end of the third quarter, subject to regulatory approval and customary closing conditions. The cash purchase of SafeAuto would be immediately accretive to earnings.
